

York's Jewish story: 1170 to present

A new exhibition in partnership with York Liberal Jewish Community

Open until 6 February 2022

Photo credit: Frank Dwyer

“The incredible stories and history encapsulated within the display are extraordinary. It’s great that visitors will have the opportunity to read about the community’s past, but also get an insight in to York’s Jewish population today. Not only are we showing York Museums Trust’s amazing collection, but we are also honoured to display loans from the community such as the Torah Scroll, which was saved from Nazi occupied Czechoslovakia, and beautiful ceremonial objects related to key Jewish festivals.”

Philip Newton, Community Engagement Researcher, York Castle Museum

School talks and workshops available in January for primary and secondary school children. Talks for secondary school children could be focused on Holocaust Memorial Day, 27 January.

For enquiries, contact Shannon Kirshner, York Liberal Jewish Community, for more information at 07719 220 631 or at info@jewsinyork.org.uk